be out flying. This would have been a real nice evening. When the air starts to cool in the fall, the air gets very smooth. No bumps. What makes bumps is rising columns of warm air, you see. So you get that when the weather's quite warm. Wintertime is a lot smoother air than summertime for fly? ing. You get wind. You get updraft of wind up against the side of the hill--wind blow? ing up against the side of a hill, shove an updraft probably a thousand feet up there. We used to call those elevators. When you're climbing and you want co get a free lift, you wouldn't have to burn too much gas. You get where the wind is blowing against the side of a mountain and you get right on to that. It's amazing how that will carry you up. Will give you a hell of a boost to climb, eh? (Were there other people around building planes and doing this?) Not right around here in the valley, no, but Nova Scotia's full of them. The only thing they didn't do, they didn't have to build an airport to fly it off of! They all had one handy enough that they could use. I was the only one that didn't. I had to build one of them too. The first time I was in hospital, the first heart attack, it was funny, in In? erness up here. Of course people would be going by, because I was after running the fibreglass shop, and I used to do auto body repair there too, you know. Used to patch them up with fibreglass. Course it was cheap to do that. My God, we done thousands of old cars. I shouldn't say thousands, but I'm sure we done hundreds. An awful pile. The awful mess of some of them. Some of them had a two- by-four from the front to the back, underneath the seats, to keep it from going down on the road because When touring the Cabot Trail, you'll enjoy your stop in Cheticamp.
