day instead of $1.50 • which "does not seem unreasonable (to the reporter), as things go in Sydney at present"--referring to the inflated cost of everything. However, the strike was "an ill-advised affair. The strikers must have known there was no chance a mere handful of men, unsupported and with little sympathy from the community at large, succeeding against a powerful company in whose success the town and the country at large is so deeply interested." The expressed attitudes regarding the dangers of the steel works were equally un3mi- pathetic. The Ottawa Citizen General re? ported on 61 deaths and many injuries in the first two years of the plant. "The works have been termed a human slaughter? house." Sydney's Daily Record responded: "While there is a grain of truth in the foregoing, yet no citizen of Sydney will feel but that it contains an injustice to both the town and the company.
