

Page 98 - From Ruth Whitehead's Micmac AlbumISSUE : Issue 50

Published by Ronald Caplan on 1989/1/1

had left a parcel in Peter Macdonald's store, and asked if they would hold over the boat a minute or so for him. He was only a few feet distant, however, when the lines were cast off, and the dejected Indian was compelled to make the thirty-four miles on foot or drive. Not being possessed of the necessary team he secured his parcel and started for Baddeck. When the Marion, and she was a much faster boat than she is today, reached Baddeck, Peter Tonney took the lines from the astonished members of the craft. He had beaten out the Marion by a good twenty minutes, was thoroughly rested and as happy as a lark to discover he had outraced the then queen of the lakes. No wonder, then, that Stephen Toney could drop a Hun sniper at a distance of one thousand yards, spotting the latter without even the aid of a glass, and during a short campaign account for nearly one hundred German snipers, and come home practically unscathed, decorated with the highest honors a soldier can possibly win on the field of battle. Echo. Halifax. 18 November 1918. Sources: Mary Doucet Newell's stories were told to folklorist Elsie Clews Parsons; they were published in the Journal of American Folklore in 1925. Richard Strong and Charles Leigh are from Richard Brown's History of the Island of Cape Breton. 1869. Marc Lescarbot Micmac tuners ' ' _ .. j bv Dr. Helen Creighton. who was driving down the road when she noticed the Micmac gathering, which proved to be a funeral. She was given permission to record a number of hymns. Left to right: Chief William Paul. Shubenacadie: Chief Ben Christmas. Eskasoni. and two men we hppg pgr rgadgrs will bg 9b??g tO identify fpr gg. is from his book Nova Francia. 1609. Pere Biard is from the Jesuit Relations and Allied Documents, ed. R. G. Thwaites. Pere Maillard wrote Memorial of the Motives of the Savages, called Mickmakis and Maricheets.... 1758. Haliburton: An I-historical and Statistical Account of Nova Scotia. 1829. Rev. Fr. V. de Paul is in Rev. Luke Schrepfer, O.S.A., Pioneer Monks in Nova Scotia. The 1850 letter is in LANS! 1851, Appendix 64:234. Uniacke's Sketches of Cape Breton and Other Papers Relating to Cape Breton Island, ed. C. Brude Fergusson, Provincial Archivist, 1958. Our thanks to Ruth Holmes Whitehead for providing this selection from her work-in-progress. She is staff ethnologist and assistant curator in history at the Nova Scotia Museum. Her most recent publication is an excellent re-telling of Micmac legends called Stories from the Six Worlds. This book is more than another version of the tales. Ms. Whitehead's continuing relationship with Micmac people, and her search for material evidence of their lives, has informed this particular telling. The book itself is illustrated with bold creative application of Micmac motifs by Kathy Kaulbach. We highly recommend this lovely book. It is published by Nimbus Publishing Company, P. O. Box 9301, Stn. A, Halifax, N. S. B3K 5N5. FAMILY DINING W SHOOTERS LOUNGE RESTAURANT OPEN till 11 P.M. LOUNGE OPEN till 2 A.M. LIVE ENTERTAINMENT Thursday, Friday, and Saturday Old-Fashioned Ceilidh Every Saturday at 2 P.M.! CAPE BRETON SHOPPING PLAZA • SYDNEY RIVER Suppliers of Commercial Recreational Fencing 0. Box 98. King St., North Sydney, N. S. B2A 3H1 794-4773 nncEL 'Sttfifiiii "Have our auger truck dig your holes." North Sydney Mall

- With Over 25 Shops and Services - starcade Peoples Store Schwartz Direct Film
Guys & Gals Pipes & Things Jean Gallery Carlton Cards 794-8274 794-4900
794-3567 794-3440 794-4409 794-8305 794-8244 794-7151 Workout Fashions
794-4997 Super Touch T's 794-8330 Household Finance 794-4735 Nova Scotia
Liquor Commission 794-4917 Co-operators Insurance 794-4788 Employment
Centre 564-3510 Shoppers Drug Mart 794-7211 Cape Breton Video 794-7783
Sherry's Treats & Beverages Chantelle's Dining Room & Lounge Agnew Alteens
Zellers Sears Sobeys Maher Sports Den 794-8245 794-3429 794-3513
794-7206 794-3610 794-8088 794-3963 794-8810 116 King St., North Sydney,
N. S. B2A 3R7 Phone: (902)794-4703 or 794-4704 98