weren't burned, though, they were just more like asphyxiated. I went to the morgue and there were 8 of them laying right out there like--just like an abat? toir. Didn't take the picture. The coroner was there, he said, "You don't want to bother with that. It's disgusting." But, you know, by the same token--in hind? sight, there's no record of that...event. There may be--the Mounties may have a pic? ture. But in lots of instances when you didn't take a picture because you thought it was too gruesome or this and that--now there's no record. You know? Like say of a hanging. You know--no picture of a hang? ing. So now they can say, "Well, people were never hung--that's only in fiction. rt's only in print they say they hung A PART OF YOUR FAMILY FOR OVER 25 YEARS them." (Or at least they can suggest it wasn't as gruesome as it really was.) Yeah, either way, yeah. (So you think those records are impor? tant.) Oh, sure they are. Sure they are. Absolutely. All those things. You know. In another 5 years, we'll never know there was a coke oven plant here. Like in the coal strike, when the miners were really aggressive. I'd show up there. Some of them would get after me, and I'd say, "No. You can't do that. You know. You're on strike," I said, "but I'm here and I'm doing my job," I said, "and that's what's going to happen. You know, you're not going to stop me, there's no way that you're going to interfere with me. You wouldn' n'ffialxeakfixxnl your dxes with Kmbud'Hied Chicken!
