throw in the hammer and be done with it, but now you have a bright future ahead of you, boy • but the one that you go with and leave and come back to and back and forth like that • you won't marry her. You're going to marry a very very nice looking tall girl with dark dark hair and she wears glasses. Frankie: And would it be wise to marry her? Annie: Yes, you will, because you'll have no regrets. I don't think you've met her yet but you'll meet her in college • and that'll be it. You won't be living in In? verness, that's for sure. But you'll be coming back to Inverness. And you'll have two children, a boy and a girl. Now that's very bright, Frankie, very very bright. A maple leaf there, that's a good sign. And a horseshoe, that's really good. Frankie in a couple of more years time with a beauti? ful woman, and lots of money too. Frankie; And I'll remember you, Annie.
