ured I could take it all. And then I thought of the old boat we had with us. And then I thought of my friend Fraser. Fraser--his engine could break down and he would be in pieces on the shore. I mean his broken paddles could break worse, which would be the same. When I got back to the railing I started to holler. And he was a 1/2 mile away from Art Gallery of Nova Scotia. located nearH3|jf3X' historic waterfront
