Business and Consumer Services previously, a clever man from England named Dunseath came the way and, seeing MacAs? kill, made up his mind that it would be an excellent idea to take him with him to other places in his own country to show him as a novelty. So after much pleading, MacAs? kill agreed to go. Mr. Dunseath made much money that year showing him in Nova Scotia, Canada and the United States. MacAskill was just on salary and because of that he didn't acquire much wealth. But the next year, he made another contract with Mr. Dunseath. The money was to be divided between them, share and share alike, and in that way he earned a good amount. On this trip he and Tom Thumb were shown together, and what a sight to see, the difference in their size and the speed with which Tom Thumb would perform tricks with MacAskill. He would dance on his palms, he would jump from hand to hand, and then MacAskill would put him in his pocket. The next year he made the same agreement with another man. This time he was taken before the Queen, who said she was glad that giants were being raised in Nova Scotia as well as in Old Scotland. He also visited the West Leather Works by John C.
