take one. Very aggravating damn thing. But a stroke is worse. A lot worse. Worse in a different way. Harder on the nerves. This drives you right batty, you know. (You don't seem right batty.) I do get very stressful. ( You can't do what you want to do.) That's basically what's the problem, I guess. (You'd like to go out and build something, or....) Not only that, but one of the things that I minded right from day one, worst of all, is that I can't look af? ter myself.... That's not my version of living.
(But like you say, it could be worse.) I could be dead, I suppose. (You've always had a reputation as a per? son who built planes, flew planes, and you built them with only one hand.) Yeah, I had to 'cause that's all I had. Ever since 1947, that's all I had. And since then I did all this you see. {Meaning his under? ground house, photos of planes and trail? ers he built.) 'Cause before that I hadn't got involved in anything like that. (It's remarkable, but I guess you know that.) Well, I never considered it remarkable really. Like I say, I don't like to brag or blow my own horn.
This was why I was very reluctant about calling you. I thought of it for a long time, but, I had your phone number in the back of my mind since about a year. Finally the other day I said I'm going to give him a call any? way. There was a couple of other fellows said they were going to call you for me but they never did. (Actually, one fellow did.) That was Mike. (I said. Okay, I will try to get to him. And it goes on a list, and the list is so long....) Yeah, I know what it's like. The days aren't long enough and there aren't enough hours in the day. Not enough days in the Holsum Benis
